NEW-YORK, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 11, 1893.-TWELVE PAGES.

READY FOR THE CAMPAIGN. THE REPUBLICAN STATE COMMITTEE MEETS AND ORGANIZES.

WILLIAM BROOKFIELD CHOSEN AGAIN FOR CHAIR-

MAN-CHARLES W. HACKETT ONCE MORE AT THE HEAD OF THE EXECU-

TIVE COMMITTEE. The Republican campaign was opened formally yesterday when the members of the Republican State Committee met at the Fifth Avenue Hotel and selected officers and Executive Committee members who will have charge of the campaign. The committee was expected to meet at 11 a. m., and some time before that hour the corridors of the hotel were crowded with well-known Republicans, who came there to discuss the situation. The State Committee members were unusually prompt in their at tendance, and there were only four proxies in the entire list of thirty-four members. The members who sent proxies are those who live at a considerable distance from this city, and who were detained at home on account of important, personal or political work, which they must attend to at once. These members were William of Allegany County; Barnet H. Davis, of Palmyra; William S. C. Wiley, Catskill; John R. Hazel, of Buffalo. In their places were John S. Kenyon, secretary of the State Committee: Ruben L. Fox, assistant secretary of the State Committee; State Senator Charles T. Saxton, and Louis F. Payne.

THE NEW COMMITTEE'S MEMBERS. The new State Committee as it is now constituted has the following members:

The committee was not called to order until some time after 11 o'clock. Before the meeting there had been considerable talk among the members as to who should take charge of the campaign. John Sabine Smith was a candidate for the place of chairman of the committee, and a number of his friends were working hard for him. Mr. Smith now is chairman of the Republican County Committee, and he also is the president of the Republican Club. His friends did not have much success in seouring votes for him, as most of the members of the committee thought that the old hands ought to lead this year.

MR. BROOKFIELD YIELDS TO PRESSURE. William Brookfield, who has been chairman I the State Committee for the last two years, was anxious to retire, and he would have been chad to do so in Mr. Smith's favor but the mem-of the committee thought that this was bid time to change managers. The cama ; i must necessarily be a short one, and a & new men take hold of the affairs of State Committee the election would be with the needs of their respective places. Mr. Brookfield did not want a re-election to the chairmanship of the State Committee. He would have been better pleased had some one been selected, for he is anxious to retire from active politics. Not that he is losing any of his ardor as a Republican, but his business affairs are such that he must let them go without the attention which they need if he devotes the time required to the State Committee, Mr. cookneld is too conscientious and too ardent a ti State Committee, and he would rather his private business affairs to go unattended to than to full to do his full duty as this, the majority of the members of the committee decided some time before it was called to order in the meeting room that if Mr. Brookfield would take the place he could have it by a vnanimeus vote. Mr. Erookfield hesitated for some time, but owing to the pressure that was made from all sides to get him to accept, he finally yielded to the importunities of his friends on the committee and consented to take a re-Mr. Smith immediately got out of the race, and when the committee met it was known that Mr.

The committee met in parlor D-R, on the second floor of the hotel. It was called to order by John S. Kenyon, the secretary, and all but four of the members responded to their names. The first business before it, of course, Hunt, jr., of Adams, Jefferson County, in a short speech, nominated Mr. Brookfield for the place. The nomination was received with applause. It was seconded by ex-Police Judge Jacob M. Patterson, the chairman of the Republican County Executive Committee. other nominations were made, and Mr. Brookfield was elected by acclamation. On taking his place at the chairman's desk Mr. Brookfield had a few words to say, in which he thanked the members of the committee for their interthis campaign as they had stood by him in previous campaigns.

Only one contest came before the committee. That was from the VIth District of Kings County. Here Charles Small and Robert M. Johnston claimed that each had been elected the member of the State Committee. After hearing both sides it was decided that Mr. Johnston's claim was the better of the two. and he was seated.

CONTEST FOR THE ADDITIONAL MEMBERSHIP. There was a lively fight for additional member of the State Committee. This place is always filled by a colored Republican, and there the Rev. Mr. Smith, who was the last member; the Rev. Dr. Derrick, who was a member some the Rev. Dr. Derrick, who was a member some time ago; Jacob H. Simms, the colored leader in the Xith Assembly District, and Charles H. Berrian, of Brooklyn. Mr. Smith did not press his candidacy with any vigor. His daughter died recently, and he did not think that he ought to press himself in a political way. On that account he early swung his strength to Mr. Berrian, and aided greatly in his selection by telling the members of the committee that he would prefer to see Mr. Ferrian elected. Mr. Berrian is an able colored lawyer of Brooklyn, and he stands high at the bar of his city. Mr. Simms did not get a vote in the committee.

and he stands high at the bar of his city. Mr. Simms did not get a vote in the committee. After this business had been transacted, the members of the Executive Committee were selected. They are: Charles M. Newins, of Brooklyn: Cornelius Van Cott, William Brookheld and Henry Grasse, of this city; ex-Senator William H. Robertson, of Westchester County; B. B. O'Dell, ir., of Newburg; John A. Quackenbush, of Stillwater; William Barnes, jr., of Albany;

W. L. Proctor, of Ogdensburg; Isaac V. Baker, ir., of Comstocks; Isaac L. Hunt, ir., of Adams; Charles W. Hackett, of Utica; George W. Dunn, of Binghamton; Barnet H. Davis, of Palmyra; J. F. Parkhurst, of Eath; James W. Wadsworth, of Geneseo; George W. Aldridge, of Rochester, and John N. Scatcherd, of Buffalo. The new members of the committee are Mr. Newins, of Brooklyn, who tikes ex-Senater Birkett's place; ex-Senator Robertson, who fills the place formerly occupied by James W. Husted; Isaac V. Baker, ir., and Barnet H. Davis, who fills the vacancy caused by the death of John H. Camp.

MEETING OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

MEETING OF THE EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE. Immediately after the main committee had got Immediately after the main committee had got through its work, the Executive Committee had a meeting. This meeting lasted for some time. Charles W. Hackett, who was the chairman of the committee in the last campaign, was reelected to the place without an opposing vote. General Samuel Thomas was also re-elected treasurer without opposition. Colonel Kenyon received the votes of all of the members present for secretary.

received the votes of all of the members present for secretary.

At the meeting of the Executive Committee the plan of the campaign was discussed, and the work of the Executive Committee was decided upon. Mr. Hackett took hold of the campaign immediately, and he will remain at the head-quarters in the Fifth Avenue Hotel until after the campaign has closed. The Executive Committee had a secret session. It was said that the question of the selection of an advisory committee was talked over, and that Chauncey M. Depew, Warner Miller and Thomas C. Platt were settled upon to constitute this committee. Mr. Miller is still ill at his home in Herkimer and Mr. Platt is in Chicago.

THE COMMITTEE WILL PROBABLY RESIGN

LIKELIHOOD OF AN EARLY MEETING OF THE ENTIRE ORGANIZATION TO HEAR THE REPORT OF FAILURE.

ncement will be made before long, in all probability, of a special meeting of the Union Club, called to receive the resignations of the members of the Site Committee. This committee was appointed in accordance with a resolution passed by the club in April, 1891. In the two years and six months of its existence it has, in spite of all the hard work of its members, accomplished nothing. The club is now as far as ever from removing further up Fifth-ave.; in fact, just at present, it seems further than ever from the accomplishment of this cherished design of the majority of the membership.

The Site Committee feels discouraged, not only because it has been able to do nothing, but because there is no apparent prospect that it will be able to make any progress in the immediate future. It has gone over every foot of ground ONE MAN KILLED AND ANOTHER SERIOUSLY in Fifth-ave., from Thirty-fourth-st. to the Park, without finding an available plot. At one time it might have been able to lease a site for a clubhouse; it was, in fact, considering the northeast corner of Fifth-ave, and Fifty-eighth- and John Berger was injured so seriously that he st., which belongs to the estate of Mrs. Elbridge was believed to be dying in Bellevie Hospital last but it might be leased for a long term of years of No. 179 East Third-st., and were cementing the

with the privilege of a renewal. The club, at a meeting, however, voted that the committee should buy a site and not lease for sentimental reasons, for land might have the scaffold away from the wall. In falling he caught been rented for about 412 per cent of its value. hold of Berger and pulled him down also. plus the taxes, while if it were bought out- head was crushed by striking the sidewalk, Berger right the club would have to pay 6 per At any rate, the committee was effectually pital. Bock's wife and five children live in a hampered by this restriction, and has been able to make no progress since that time.

From the first the committee has cast its eyes longingly on the northwest corner of Fifth-ave and Fifty-fourth-st., which forms part of the St. Luke's Hospital property. This was by all odds the most favorable site to be found. It was just far enough uptown, and not too far. It was on the southwest corner, THE GRAND JURY MAY ACT ON THE LEOPOLD which is the most desirable one in the eyes market, as the hospital had decided to move to Morningside Heights. The trustees of the here to-night that the civil authorities are to take hospital wanted $2,500,000 for their plot of a hand in punishing the offenders in the Leopold thirty-two city lots, but asked the Union Club $800,000 for eight of them, four in the avenue tion of the Grand Jury, which is now in session at and four in Fifty-fourth-st. This price was

When it was announced last June that the hospital property had been sold, the Site Com- indictment is looked for to-morrow. The college mittee thought that it might arrange with the authorities were asked if they would protect the have bought the land. An early report declared that John D. Rockefeller was the new owner, and the committee conceived the idea that he had bought the property chiefly to keep the club from getting any of it. He lives at wanted by the committee, and no doubt would at through. The investigation will be from a strictly consider his home less pleasant if it stood across the street from a big clubhouse.

The report that Mr. Rockefeller was the purchaser has been denied, however. Nevertheless, the committee has reason for supposing that men who are interested in keeping the Union Club from Fifty-fourth-st, and Fifth-ave, are concerned in the transaction. If the purchasing syndicate were merely engaged in a real estate speculation, it would long ago have offered the club the land it wants. The club could pay more for the property than any one else, in all probability; it might even pay for the eight lots nearly one-third of what the thirty-two lots cost.

Another consideration is that the price paid, $2,400,000, is regarded by real estate men as excessive. West Fifty-fifth-st, is a "stable street," cessive. West Fifty-fifth-st. Is a "stable street, and land in it is worth much less than in Fifty-fourth-st. The fact that the amount paid was unduly large is a further indication that the property was bought for other than speculative purposes. A good many wealthy men live at or near Fifty-fourth-st. and Fifth-ave, who would unquestionably pay a round sum to keep the club away from there. Their objections may be largely a matter of sentiment but the immediate neighborhood of a club is likely to be in a measure objectionable. The side street is always full of cabs, men are continually passing in and out or standing at the windows, and the privacy of the vicinity of the spot is invaded—at least so the surrounding householders declare.

So there the Union Club Site Committee stands. It has a hope of getting the northwest corner of Thirty-ninth-st., opposite the Union League Club, where the widow of John D. Wendel lives, and adjoining which is a vacant lot. This would hardly be far enough uptown for an ideal site, but it would be a good deal further up than the present house at Twenty-first-st. There is, however, no immediate chance of getting this. The committee has exhausted its resources, and sees nothing more it can do. It has not held a meeting for months, although individual members have done some work in that time. Something unexpected may happen, but just now the committeemen see nothing for them to do but to resign. There is every likelihood that they will agree on this step at their next meeting. and land in it is worth much less than in Fifty-

"EEMEMBER LOTS WIFE."

MEN AFTER ROBBING A STAGE. Ballinger, Tex., Oct. 10.-Particulars of the latest stage robbery have just been received. Three miles east of Robert Lee, in Coke County, the Ballinger and Robert Lee stage was robbed by two high-waymen. They were disguised by wearing long whiskers and having masks over their faces. At a point in the road where there are ravines and thick underbrush they met the stage and ordered the driver to halt and throw up his hands, at the same time forcing him to look down the barrel of a huge six-shooter. They took $1 65 from the driver rifled the mail sacks, securing about $3,100 which was being sent from the bank at Robert Lee to other banks throughout the State. After secur-ing their booty, they ordered the driver to turn his face to the east and drive fast and "remember the command given by the angel of God to Lot's wife."

There was an exciting and thrilling chase between a trolley car and a team of runaway horses attached to a coach in Graham-ave., Brooklyn, yesterday morning, which was witnessed by many undred people. The car was filled with passengers, mostly women, and it was with difficulty that the conductor prevented some of the passengers from jumping to the street while the car was moving at a great rate of speed.

The horses and coach were the property of Joseph Schlitz, who conducts an undertaking establishment in Moore-st. The animals had just been prepared to attend a funeral. They were standing in stable when they became frightened and dashed into the street, turning toward Grahamave. The driver, who had taken his seat on the box, was thrown to the street, falling on his knees He escaped serious injury. Several men ran to stop the animals, but they only increased their speed on hearing shouts. On reaching Graham-ave, they turned, almost upsetting coach and just grazing a trolley car going toward Greenpoint. There was another trolley car NO UNION CLUB SITE FOUND. bound for Fulton Ferry, and the horses swung into the track directly behind it. As the animals went dashing along, the motorman increased the greatly excited. Every moment it was expected the frantic beasts would dash against the rear platform of the car. Many of the passengers crowded toward the door, and several expressed desire to leap to the street. The car swayed badly from the increase in speed and this added to The motorman dared not stop the car. The clanging of the bell as the car rushed along and the noise of the horses' hoofs behind attracted the hundreds of pedestrians who were in the thoroughfare. Many followed the flying car and runaway team.

At Broadway the road takes a slight curve into Flushing-ave. As the car shot around the curve the animals swerved to one side and turned into Broadway, just missing the rear end of the car-by a few inches.

When the motorman saw that he was out of the way of the horses he soon brought the car to a standstill.

The team was stopped in Broadway shortly after turning the corner, and were claimed by the owner. The carriage and horses were unburt.

DRAGGED HIS COMPANION DOWN.

INJURED BY A FALL FROM A SCAFFOLD. By a fall from a scaffold to the sidewalk in front of the house No. 26 Avenue A late yesterday afternoon, Adam Bock, house painter, was killed. Gerry's father. This could not be bought, evening. The men were employed by Fritz Jaeger, on a swinging scaffold which was supported by ropes from the cornice of the house. was a heavy man, accidentally leaned against the This action seems to have been taken wall too hard and lost his balance as he pushed broke one of his legs and received internal injuries. Berger had a wife and child living at No. 7 First-ave. Jacob Malter, who was working on the scaffold with Bock and Berger, saved him-self from falling with them by catching hold of the supporting ropes.

PRINCETON HAZERS IN DANGER.

AFFAIR-PROSECUTOR STOCKTON TO MAKE AN INVESTIGATION

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 10 (Special).-It was reported Trenton, and the public prosecutor, Bayard Stockpurchasers to take the eight lots off their hands. students. They replied that they would not intercriminal courts against the hazers, yet he hoped that such an action would be taken by some boy's father who had the nerve to carry the prosecution to its fullest extent.

Mr. Stockton resides in Princeton, and no No. 4 West Fifty-fourth-st., opposite the lois he has undertaken an investigation he will carry legal standpoint. The limit of punishment for assault and battery is two years in the penitentlary. A force of detectives will be put on the case immediately, and the investigation will be carried on without any connection with the faculty. Neither Leopold nor his father has had anything to do with this move on the part of the public officials.

HE THREW HIMSELF IN FRONT OF A TRAIN

NEW-YORK BUSINESS MAN, ONCE A WELL-KNOWN CRICKET PLAYER, COMMITS SUICIDE. Edward J. Gould, a business man of this city ommitted suicide yesterday by throwing himself in front of a moving freight train between Pamrapo and Bayonne on the Central Railroad. For the last five days Gould had been an inmate of a hos-pital at Bayonne for alcoholic treatment. He left the hospital for a walk at 3 o'clock yesterday after e deliberately threw himself in front of the trail The man's body was frightfully mangled. The body was taken to the morgue. Gould was a well-brown cricket player and belonged to the New-Jersey Athletic Club. He was unmarried and lived in Bay View Court, in Bergen Point.

RUN DOWN BY A TROLLEY CAR.

SURGEON AND HIS FATHER DEMOLISHED

Trolley cars were run in Grand-st., Jersey City. yesterday for the first time. They had not been in operation two hours before one of the cars ran down a wagon containing Police Surgeon John Nevin and Michael Nevin, his father. They were thrown out and badly cut and bruised. The wagon was demolished, although the horse escaped in Witnesses of the affair say that the motor was going at full speed without ringing any bell, and that the motorman, who was new at the and that the motional, business, was unable to stop the car until it had gone 159 feet. The man, whose name is Michael Moran, was not arrested.

Charles Nostrand, forty-five years old, a driver for Herman Brothers, Unionville, was run down by an car on the electric road at Bensonhurst Monday night, while driving across the track. The trolley car struck the wagon, throwing Nostrand out, and he fell heavily on his head on the road-way. It is feared that he has sustained a fracture of the skull. He was taken to the Norwegian Hos-pital, where he lies in a critical condition. Nostrand is married and has a family living in Prospect-st., South Brooklyn.

South Brooklyn.

Robert Attlesey, the son of the late Supervisor
Attlesey, of No. 26 Ninth-ave., Brooklyn, was thrown from his carriage in a collision with a Flatbush trolley car yesterday. He had reached the city line in Flatbush-ave, when the trolley car struck the carriage. The horse was thrown down and the carriage was overturned. Mr. At-tlesey was brulsed slightly.

ONLY SIXTEEN DOLLARS IN THE BANK'S SAFE. Nashville, Oct. 10.—Experts to-day opened the safe of the Bank of Huntingdon, and found there, instead of a pile of money and securities, just $16. LAWYERS SPEAK OUT.

THEY DENOUNCE MAYNARD.

FRIGHTENED PASSENGERS CROWD TO ONE END A SHORT MEETING OF THE BAR ASSOCIATION.

THE NOMINATION CONDEMNED IN STRONG TERMS-A MOTION THAT AN ATTEMPT BE

MADE TO INDICT HIM FOR FELONY. Judge Isaac H. Maynard can thank his lucky stars that there are a lot of conservative men in the New-York Bar Association. If there had not been he would have a committee of nine lawyers hot on his trail this morning seeking his indictment for a felony. A resolution to take this action was offered to the association at its meeting last night but it was lost. One resolution was passed, however, strongly condemning the nomination of Maynard "as one unfit to have been made." This was passed almost unanimously, only half a dozen thin, small voices in the back part of the hall opposing it.

was probably due to the fact that it was a picion is unjust to him. He has been hard at surprise to the meeting. Efizur B. Hinsdale work in Troy with Edward Murphy, jr., the chairsurprise to the meeting. Efizur B. Hinsdale was the only one who spoke on this resolution at all, after Paul Fuller had made a short Mr. Hinsdale spoke against it. He said that he agreed with heart and soul into the effort to elect Maynard. the sentiments of the resolution, but he thought it would be inadvisable to pass it, for two reasons. One was that the crime, if there was a crime, as some one in the audience chief beneficiary thus far of Judge Maynard's suggested, had been committed in Albany, and the Bar Association was a New-York City institution. If there should be a trial it must necessarily be in Albany, and it would look strange for representatives of the New-York fore will do all in his power to elect Maynard. association to go up there and press it. The A conference has been held in the executive chamother more cogent reason was that Maynard was soon to be tried before all the people of

NOT A LONG SESSION

The meeting was an extremely short one. It only lasted ten or fifteen minutes after the Maynard matter had been introduced. Wheeler H. Peckham, president of the association, presided. After a small amount of routine business had been finished tellers were appointed to take the votes en new members of the Association. While this was being done Mr. Peckham said that miscellaneous business was in order,

Austen G. Fox arose and said that he had a resolution which he should like to offer. Without prefatory remarks, he read the following:

Resolved. That for reasons already expressed by us the nomination of Isaac H. Maynard for Judge of the Court of Appeals is one not fit to have been made. Resolved, That this association urge upon every good citizen, without distinction of party, and especially upon every lawyer, the paramount duty of opposing to his utmost this attempt to reward unworthy conduct by a seat on the bench of our highest judicial tribunal. Not only did he refrain from saying anything before reading the resolution, but when it was

Paul Fuller, who is a member of the firm of Condert Brothers, arose and proposed the following amendment to the resolution, which he had been taken on the one offered by Mr. Fox. fatally. The fireman was buried beneath the en-fere, but would assist in any civil or criminal in- familiar with the facts of the case. After reading wrecks, public, has not learned who the men are who vestigation which might be brought. Dean Murray the resolution, he made the following pointed temarks in favor of it being accepted by the MORE NEW CASES OF YELLOW FEVER.

Resolved. That the president of this association be requested to appoint a committee of nine to procure the indictment and trial of Isaac H. Maynard for the felony with which this association has already charged him, in the report adopted by it on March 12, 1822, such felony consisting of a violation of Section 34 of the Penal ('ode, by removing and abstracting from a public office an election return properly deposited in that office by authority of law.

In support of this resolution I would simply say that the voice of this association seems to have been powerless and to have had no weight. If words are ineffectual then this association must proceed to action. It has deliberately charged Mr. Maynard with a felony. Before the echo of that charge had died away the Chief Magistrate of this state placed him on the bench of the highest court. The Legislature refused to remove him. The Chief Jagistrate of this State defied this association by appointed him, and to-day public opinion is so defied that this man has been put before us by a convention which is supposed to represent the people as a candidate for election. It is time for this association to do something more than talk. It is time to see that the laws shall be vindicated and that the punishment shall not be merely non-action.

For some time it looked as if no one could be found who was willing to second the resolution. There had evidently been no concerted there. action on this resolution, and the whole meeting seemed to be taken by surprise. The action might be just and well deserved by Maynard, seemed to be the sentiment of the meeting, but still they hesitated. At last Charles F. Bostwick seconded the resolution.

NOT A VOICE RAISED FOR MAYNARD. Strange to say, no hot-headed champion jumped up and with righteous indignation deounced the resolution as an outrage, emained passive even when their vaunted le and model of uprightness, justice and integrity was thus assailed.

Elizur B. Hinsdale finally broke the silence and opposed the resolution on the ground of policy. He said:

policy. He said:

I would like to state to the association that I oppose this resolution. In doing so it is not because I am not in entire harmony with the action of the committee of this association. I have in writing and in speech denounced Mr. Maynard's great steal in language as strong as I can command, but there are two capital objections to this resolution. In the first place this is the Bar Association of the City of New-York. The crime was committed in Albany.

A voice—If there was a crime.

Mr. Hinsdale—We call it a crime! The crime was committed in Albany, outside of our jurisdiction; and it would be a strange proceeding for us to send a committee to Albany. There is a trial to be had before the people of the State of New-York, and it is to be a great trial, and, furthermore, I think any attempt to proceed criminally at this time against Mr. Maynard would detract from the dignity and effect of the greater trial we are about to enter upon. Do not let us handicap ourselves by anything like persecution. He should be punished by the people for the things he has done.

The question was put, and the chairman thought that the resolution was lost. A standing vote was asked for, and only a half-dozen members voted in favor of the resolution. A motion was then put for an adjournment and immediately carried.

The new members who were elected were:

immediately carried.

The new members who were elected were:
Thomas J. Falls, Frank J. McBarron, Clinton T.
Smith, J. Woolsey Shepard, Adrian H. Larkin,
Alexander Reading Gulick, Job E. Hedges,
Henry A. Foster and Arthur H. Van Brunt.

SENATOR MURPHY HEARS THE NEWS.

Senator Edward Murphy, jr., arrived in this ity last evening and went, as usual, to he Hoffman House. Shortly after his arrival, while he was with a number of Tammany and machine politicians at another hotel, where he remained until a late hour, news of the meeting of the Bar Association was brought to him. The report of the meeting produced a depressing effect upon the spirits of the Senator and his friends. To newspaper men, however, Mr. Murphy put on an unruffled front, and said that nothing that the New-York Bar Association could do could

JUDICIAL DUTIES.

SUCCESS-A DISCUSSION WITH GOVERNOR FLOWER-PAISING A GREAT COR-

PUPTION FUND-THE SECRET BALLOT FEARED.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE TRIBUNE.] Albany, Oct. 10.-One of the black-robed Judge of the Court of Appeals has not been in his seat on the bench the present week. His name is Isaac H. Maynard; and his absence has been particularly noticed because the guides in the great white granite Capitol are in the habit of pointing him to visitors with much the same air as that with which they would point out a criminal in a jail wagon. The object of this uncomplimentary observation, Judge Maynard, does not seem to relish it; and in a photograph which he has had taken recently he sits with his head down. But, as stated, for a day or so Judge Maynard has been absent. It might be suspected that he was looking up the Dutchess County election returns The defeat of the first mentioned resolution which he stole about two years ago, but the susman of the Democratic State Committee, planning a political campaign to elect himself as Judge of the Court of Appeals for fourteen years.

Many criticisms have been made about Mr. Murphy's political course, but at least he has never been accused of ingratitude. Has he not been the theft of the Dutchess County election returns? How could be (Murphy) have been elected a United States Senator this year unless those election re-turns had been stolen and the Legislature converted into a Democratic body? Mr. Murphy thereber here at the Capitol between Governor Flower and Senator Murphy in relation to Maynard's candidacy. It was probably a finance committee of two whose members were thus in consultation. Judge Maynard's canvass will cost a large sum of money. The clerks in the Democratic State Deent at the Capitol, who have already paid 5 and 10 per cent assessments upon their salaries into the Democratic campaign fund, are keenly aware of that fact. All sources of campaign income are to be used to elect Maynard-the salaries of the State officials and their clerks, the big corporations, the Canal Department, the salary lists of Tammany Hall and of the Brooklyn Democrats The only plan that the present State Committee has of conducting a campaign is to hoard up its money until near the election, and then to buy votes on election day.

Mr. Croker's recent circular letter stating that the Tammany Hall organization is poor in conse quence of the hard times, and soliciting contributions to carry on the campaign, excites a laugh here and is regarded merely as a method of keep-ing political strikers away from Tammany Hall.. "What, Croker poor," said a leading Democratic politician here a few days ago. "That is nonsense which should not deceive the dullest politician.

Tammany Hall, on the contrary, will have all the desires. What Maynard's friends fear is the secret balfinished he sat down without further remarks.

SECONDED BY FORDHAM MORRIS.

Fordham Morris seconded the resolution simply, and also sat down. No one seemed anxious to speak on the subject. The chairman waited expectantly, and so did everybody else. Finally Paul Fuller, who is a manufact of the flow of the

RAN INTO AN OPEN SWITCH.

A PENNSYLVANIA TRAIN WRECKED IN INDIANA

AND TWO MEN KILLED. Whiting, Ind., Oct. 10.-At about 4:20 o'clock this afternson train No. 2 of the Pennsylvania Railroad ran into an open switch, causing the engine, mailcar and two Pullmans to leave the track. The dead are: Henry Warner, engineer; John Christie,

Mr. Peckham suggested that this ought to be hundred-and-nineteenth-st, crossing. Three persons offered as a separate resolution after a vote were injured, including the conductor, but none TIME FOR THE ASSOCIATION TO ACT. gitte and scalded to death by the escaping steam. The train was composed of a mail car and nine Mr. Fuller acquiesced, and Mr. Fox's resolu-tion, will endeaver to have indictments brought tion was then carried by almost a unanimous against those implicated in the affair, Judge Abtion. He said that it was not necessary to ing flames. The track was not cleared until after have any preamble to his resolution, because so'clock. There were more than 400 passengers on the members of the association were already the train. The engine and the mail car were total

THIRTY-FIVE PERSONS STRICKEN AT BRUNS WICK YESTERDAY-CONTRIBUTIONS

FOR THE SUFFERERS. Brunswick, Ga., Oct. 10.-The Health Board to-day appointed another physician to take charge of Dr. L. B. Davis's patients. This action was deemed necessary by the board from the fact that Dr. Davis's patients being reported as sick with mala stances were testified to by the Health Board Com mittee and Surgeon Faget where some of Dr. Davis's patients had died of typical cases of yellow fever, while he persisted that they only had malaat Jesup. Seven cases are now under treatment

The official report to-day gives: Deaths-Charle Price and H. R. Duck.

New cases—Whites, 9; colored, 26; total, 35. Discharged, 9. Recapitulation—Cases under treatment, 208; charged, 92; died, 18; total, 318; ratio of morta 5.6 per cent.

The following letter was received at the Maritime

Exchange yesterday:

The American National Red Cross, Beaufort, S. C. F. W. Roughton, e.q., Superintendent Maritime Associa tion, New-York City.

My Dear Sir: In last night's mail came your cheering letter and substantial and generous check, for both of which please accept our grateful and special acknowledge.

Miss Borton and her staff are especially thankful for this check for $1,000 from the Maritime Association of New-York, for it proves that we have won by our work in the past the confidence of the business men; a splendid acknowledgment to the world that the American National Red Cross carries on its practical relief and aid service on strict business principles. If the great leaders of comstrict business principles. If the great lenders of com-merce give us their hearly co-operation and support, pub-lishing the fact breatlesst, thus causing others to rally to this great field of de olution, hard as the work is, grave as are the problems, we feel that our success is assured. Very certifully and repeatfully,

For Miss Clara Barton.

The following additional contributions were received at the Maritime Exchange, viz.: The Misses Thurston, Brooklyn Heights. Total to date A box of clothing was also received from C. B.

Ellis, Winthrop, Me., and one package of clothing from G. C. Brackett, Brooklyn, and forwarded. To the Editor of The Tribune. Sir: I beg leave to acknowledge through your val-ued paper receipt of the following subscriptions for the benefit of the Brunswick sufferers:

Fig. 1 usly acknowl dged. Meesrs, M. P. Breslin & Son, 402 East Sixty-fourth 25 00

President United States National Bank, October 10, 1893. The Tribune has received the following additional contributions for the Brunswick, Ga., Yellow Fever

M. Carrie Childs, Floral Park L. I F. Lambden and employes, New-Rocnelle, N. Y....

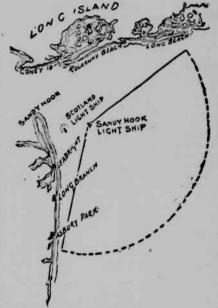

MAYNARD AND MURPHY PLOT. READY FOR TO-DAY'S RACE.

THE FORMER TOO EUSY TO ATTEND TO HIS AMERICA'S PRIDE HAS A NEW BOWSPRIT

INTEREST OF THE SENATOR IN THE JUDGE'S THE OLD ONE CRACKED ON THE FIRST LEG IN MONDAY'S CONTEST-LORD DUNRAVEN OB-> JECTS TO EXCURSION STEAMERS-AN-OTHER RICHMOND IN THE FIELD.

The third of the series of the races for the America's Cup will be sailed to-day. It was extremely unfortunate that the bowsprit of the Vigilant should have been cracked in such a breeze as blew on Monday, and it was an accident which should not have happened; but the American champion is all right now, and will be in a fitting condition to race to-day. As soon as the Vigilant arrived at her anchorage off the Atlantic Yacht Club on Monday night a tug was sent to City Island to bring down her extra bowsprit, which was lying there. It return ed about midnight and work was at once begun to get the spar ready for shipping. Yesterday afternoon the new bowsprit was put in place, and this morning the Vigilant is in as good condition as she ever was. The new spar was cut to match the old one, and the work on it was superintended by Mr. Iselin and "Nat"

EXTREME LIMIT OF THE COURSE OVER WHICH THE YACHTS WILL SAIL TO-DAY. Herreshoff. It was about 10 o'clock when the spar was ready to be placed on board the Vigilant. It was then towed to the yacht by the tender of the Vigilant, the Hattie Palmer, and was placed in position. It took thirty sailors from the Vigilant to carry on their shoulders the big spar from the carpenter's shop to the

It cost about $400 to put the new bowsprit in the Vigilant and lots of hard work. At 4:45 o'clock the new spar was in place, and shortly afterward the Vigilant started out to try it. As she passed by the Valkyrie all the sailors of the British boat assembled along her sides to watch the American boat, and all the yachts at anchor dipped their colors as the Vigilant

THE RACE WON WITH A CRACKED BOWSPRIT. The bowsprit of the Vigilant began to show signs of weakness before the first mark was rounded in Monday's race. Cracks began to appear in it, and when the mark was rounded the fib-topsail and fib sheets were eased off and wire rope wound around the spar. Toward the finish, in fact all through the last leg, the spar was dangerous, and care was taken to Oregon pine, and the cracks in it appeared following the grain of the wood. It is not would have carried away even if it had been used in a gale of wind, for in pine timber such cracks are not of infrequent occurrence, following the grain of the wood, going so far and no further. Still they are always more or less unsafe, and the owners of the Vigilant desired to take no chances.

The sailors of the Vigilant and the men in Wintringham's shipyard worked like beavers in getting the new bowsprit ready and shipped in its place on the Vigilant.

YACHTSMEN SURPRISED AT COMPLAINTS.

Yachtsmen yesterday were surprised at the sion boats. The Valkyrie, it was universally agreed, had little to complain of in that respect, After rounding the first mark few boats were anywhere near her. Long before the British boat was around the second mark, the entire fleet of excursion boats was at least a mile and a half ahead of her, all doing their best to keep up with the swift-flying Vigilant. The Vigilant sailed the last leg and the last half of the second leg with the entire fleet of boats accompanying her, and of necessity, although the steamers kept at a reasonable distance from the yacht, she must have got some of the wash from their paddle wheels and propellers. When the Vigilant had finished, one boat, in the excitement of the moment, ran across the line, between the flagship and the lightship. Then all the fleet gathered beyond the finish line to walt for the Valkyrie to finish. How such things could have made any difference to a boat that was so far astern as the Valkyrie, is a mystery which only Lord Dunraven and Mr. Kersey can solve. It was a frequent remark on board the St. Johns, the club boat of the New-York Yacht Club on Monday:

"Well, the Valkyrie cannot complain that she was bothered by excursion boats to-day."

Dozens of yachtsmen yesterlay, among them many prominent and well-known members of the New-York Yacht Club, declared that the Valkyrle had not been interfered with in any way. If there was cause for any complaint it was on the part of the Vigilant.

THINKS NEWPORT A BEITER PLACE TO RACE. Lord Dunrayen said yesterday: "I have not thought about building another boat to race for the America's Cup. The Valkyrie has not been defeated in three races yet. If I did come been defeated in three races yet. If I did come over here to race for the cup again, I should prefer to have the races sailed off Newport, where there would be less interference from excursion steamers. It is impossible to sail a boat to the best advantage amid such a lot of steamers as followed the race of yesterday. They undoubtedly interfered with the Vigilant somewhat, but my boat being behind, got the worst of the wash. I still regard the Valkyrie as the faster boat in very light weather or heavy weather. The race of Saturday I do not regard as a fair test. Yesterday there was fair racing weather. I believe I made a mistake in shortening the load-water line of the Valkyrie. She is sailing light. I also should have sent her over here earlier, so that we could have become She is sailing light. I also should have sent her over here earlier, so that we could have become accustomed to the American conditions of racing weather and of American waters. I do not say that the Valkyrie would have won the race yesterday had it not been for the crowding of excursion boats, but I believe that we would have made a better showing had they kept away from us. In racing on the other side I believe the Valkyrie could beat the Vigilant."

RUMORS OF ANOTHER CHALLENGE,

There were rumors yesterday of another challenge for the America's Cup to be issued in case the Valkyrle lost to-day's race. It is pretty generally understood that the English do not intend to give up the hunting of the cup just yet. Who the new challenger will be is not yet made public, but it is thought that